Give Them a Chance!
That is to say, your lungs. All your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery. It is not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and capillaries leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well. Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any other name of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is but one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Rosebush's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed, as you may depend upon.

Cure for Piles.

Itching Piles are known by moisture-like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable odor after getting warm. This form, as well as blind, bleeding and protruding piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Rosebush's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the part affected, absorbing the tumor, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure. Price 25 cents per box. Address the Rosebush Medical Co., Piquette, Ohio. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson & Co., Reno, Nev.

Merit Will Tell

Was never better demonstrated than when "Fryer's Abolition Remedy" were awarded diplomas at the late California State Fair at Sacramento, and at Mechanics' Institute at San Francisco. Wm. HOW GAS IS MADE.

The Simplicity of the Process—An Illustrative Description.

Let us give you a very simple explanation of gas making. Break up a piece of bituminous coal into fragments and fill the bowl of a clay tobacco pipe with them. Cover the mouth of the bowl with wet clay and then thoroughly dry it. Put the bowl of a pipe into a fire where it will get red hot and you will soon see a yellowish smoke come out of the stem, and if you touch a light to the smoke it will burn brightly, for it is nothing more nor less than gas from the coal.

You can purify and collect this gas in a very simple way. Fill a bottle with water and turn it upside down in a bowl of water. You know the water will not run out of the bottom because the air pressure on the water in the bowl will prevent it. Push the end of the pipe stem under the mouth of the bottle and the gas will bubble up through the water into the bottle, gradually displacing the water, and if the pipe were large enough to make a great deal of gas the bottle would be entirely filled with it.

You have seen the immense quantities of gas which they have at the gas works. That is what is left of the coal after the gas has been burned out of it. Coke is carbon, only a small part of what was in the coal having gone off with the gas. Take the clay covering off your pipe and you will find the bowl filled with this coke.

Now that is precisely the way gas is made in large quantities at the gas works. Instead of pipe bowls they use big retorts, and these are heated red hot by furnaces, for the fire must be outside of the retorts. Heating coal red hot in a closed retort is very different from burning it in the open air. A large pipe from the retort carries off the product of the coal, consisting of steam, tar, air and ammonia as well as gas. The ammonia and the tar go into tanks and the gas into coolers, and then over lime, which takes up the acids in it, into the immense iron gas-holders which you have seen at the works.

These holders are open at the bottom, and stand, or rather swing, in tanks of water, being adjusted by means of weights. As the gas comes into them they rise up out of the water, but the bottoms are always submerged so that the gas cannot escape. The large gas pipes, or mains, as they are called, connect with the holders and conduct the gas through the streets to the houses where it is used. The pressure is given to the gas by the weight of the iron holders, which are always bearing down on the gas they contain.

STAGE WARDROBES

Something about Their Value and the Trouble Taken in Collecting Them.

In a brief interview with Mr. Hawdon recently he said: "The most valuable wardrobe owned by the rank and file of the profession, to-day are probably in the hands of those who were brought up in stock companies. Being called upon to play a variety of parts in their time they have got together piece by piece articles of dress and bits of finery that in many instances could not be duplicated."

"Such eminent actors as Henry Irving and Wilson Barrett included the development of theatrical dressing among par native actors perhaps more than any others, although Edwin Booth, W. E. Sheridan and E. L. Davenport made several attempts in the same direction years ago. The time, however, was not ripe for the ideas thus promulgated to take root, and discouraged, disheartened and impoverished, Mr. Booth gave up trying to educate the profession and public up to a higher standard and has settled down to the use only of those things in the matter of dress and appointments that are absolutely necessary."

"The rapid growth of international communication, visits of American actors and tours of foreign artists in this country at last awakened interest in dress matters on this side of the Atlantic, and to-day an actor can get better ideas, better work and more carefully and stylishly made wardrobes in New York than he can anywhere in Europe. This fact is admitted by many English actors who come to this country, and instead of bringing with them great trunks of wardrobe from home they wait until they get here before having anything made up."

"Worth managed for a while to get a great many orders from American society ladies and actresses by the clever little dodge of telling them when they tried to explain to him what they wanted, that he never met a woman with such ideas and perfect taste and such mechanical ingenuity before. Unluckily for him these ladies began finally to compare notes and found that he used the same expression to each of them."

EARLY COACHES

Brief History of These Cumbersome but Convenient Vehicles.

The first coach was made in Hungary, and called a "kocsi," from the place (Kott) where it was made, so that our children's name for it ("kocsi-poshy") is more accurate than is supposed by their elders.

In France the first coach was manufactured for Jean De Lavelle Bois-Dauphin, because his enormous bulk prevented his riding on horseback.

But long after that Queen Elizabeth had no coach, but was content to journey from London to Exeter on a pillion behind the Lord Chancellor—an historical picture which has yet got to be painted, I believe.

In Germany coaches were prohibited in 1588, "because," says the proclamation of the Duke of Brunswick, "manly virtue, sincerity, boldness, honesty, and resolution" were being lost to the aristocracy through its indolent habit of traveling on wheels.

In Spain the coachmen were done away with, for a curious reason: The Duke d'Alvarez found that a State secret he had communicated to a friend in his coach had been overheard and revealed by his driver; whereupon a Royal decree was issued by which the place of the driver was made similar to that of our postilion—namely, on the first horse to the left.

It is strange, considering how our gilded youth past to be coachmen, that none of them yearn to be postboys—London News.

Judge Thurman.

Judge Thurman's life and career have been so open, so manly as to command the respect of his opponents, and that respect has been freely given. He has been a man of brains and of decided opinions. He has been no skulker like Cleveland, dodging about between parties, and fearing to express an opinion or leave a record upon the most momentous questions of our national life; but he has played his part fairly and manfully upon life's stage, and always with a frank and kindly heart. It is pitiful then, says the Oakland Times, to see him dragged from the quiet of his home, with falling mind and feeble body to bolster up the cause of one who is not worthy to be his associate, far less his leader. If to keep up the flagging interests of the Democracy it is necessary that some one should be butchered to make a Roman holiday, it is respectfully suggested that it be not the old Roman himself. There is Mr. Cleveland himself.

If BLAINE did not say 1876 instead of 1886 he is mistaken in saying the present Republican majority in Maine is greater than any former one, says the Salt Lake Tribune. Grant's majority in 1872 over Greeley was 32,845. In 1876 the majority of Hayes was 16,383; in 1880 Garfield's majority was only 8,868; in 1884 Blaine's majority over Cleveland was 20,069, but in that year Butler received 8,953 and St. John 2,160 votes. The present vote shows a return of the old war spirit, and taken in conjunction with the Democratic majority in Arkansas, the smallest since the Democracy captured the State after reconstruction days, the omens are fair for November.

OREGON set the example early in the season of surpassing all previous Republican majorities; and Vermont and Maine have followed with their usual zeal in good and patriotic works. All the other Northern States may be expected to do likewise according to present indications. The Republican party was never more united, aggressive and enthusiastic than it is this year, and its prospects of success brighten every day.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Senator Sherman says Harrison's letter rings like a bell.

"The eagle and the flag against the rooster and the rag," is the way the Illinois Republicans define the situation.

On the rolls of the Republican Club of Plattsburg, Mo., are the names of fourteen men who voted for Cleveland in 1884.

Congressman Rowell, who has just returned to Washington, expresses the opinion that Illinois will go Republican by 30,000.

Ignatius Donnelly is a candidate for office in Minnesota, but the result of his canvass is likely to be expressed in ciphers.

Jay Gould says he believes in free wool. Wall street is carpeted with the free wool that Jay Gould has clipped.—Chicago Mail.

General N. P. Banks has consented to be a candidate for a Congressional nomination in the fifth Massachusetts District, and is not likely to have any opposition.

The Civil Service Reformers haven't said a word about Mr. Cleveland's $10,000 contribution to the campaign fund. They are evidently too much amazed to speak.

The Maine granite cutters had a practical illustration of the results that would follow the adoption of the Mills bill when a monument that would cost them $500 to produce was cut by cheap labor in Scotland, brought to this country and set up for $375 a few days ago.

It is a peculiar feature about General Harrison's campaign that the more he says the better impression he makes. There is no occasion for choking him off from prudential motives. He is sound and discrete and his letter wins commendation even from some of his political enemies.

It is about time that Sam Davis' hard of Holstein, not forgetting the bob-tail cat, made its appearance at the State Fair grounds.

GOLDENSON.

HE PAYS THE PENALTY FOR MURDER.

His Brazen Effrontery During His Last Hours—He Places the Noose Around His Own Neck—Etc.

SAN FRANCISCO Sept. 14.—Alexander Goldenison, the murderer of Mamie Kelly, was executed at the County Jail to-day.

The public interest that was attached to the execution of Goldenison was well evidenced last night when a large crowd assembled in front of the jail and stared blankly at the walls until midnight. It required police assistance to keep the sidewalk clear. The prisoner passed his last night as all expected he would. He played euchre and checkers with Jailer Rogers, and laughed and joked about the terror of the morrow as if it were to be his marriage-day. Late yesterday afternoon his photograph was taken. The only one to display any nervousness was the photographer. His brothers were with him until late in the evening, and at 9 o'clock the broken-hearted mother bade her son a last farewell. Her cries and moans could be heard throughout the jail, as she held the passive form of her boy in her arms, kissing him passionately and breathing loving words in his ear. When at last she was led away by the Sheriff, Goldenison threw himself on his couch and sobbed for a minute or two. Then, jumping up, he exclaimed, "Well, I'm d—d glad that's over," and resumed his euchre. At 10 o'clock Father Fasanotti was sent for by the condemned man and responded immediately, remaining with the murderer for a half hour. He returned again at midnight, staying with the prisoner for many minutes. As he left he said that he thought he had made some impression upon the hardened youth. Shortly before 11 o'clock Goldenison bade every one a cheerful good-night, and after drinking a glass of wine, sought his bed and fell into a deep sleep.

The murderer awoke with a start shortly after 4 o'clock this morning. He looked about him wildly for a moment, and then remembering where he was, his old calmness resumed its possession of him. He inquired the time, remarking that it was strange he could not sleep. After conversing for a while with Deputy Sheriff Gorham, he laid down again, but sleep had deserted him altogether, and in half an hour he arose again for the day.

By 9 o'clock the crowd on the street had thronged both sidewalks, and the services of police were necessary to keep a passage clear for those who were entitled to admission to the jail. The rumors of the large number of admission tickets abroad caused a number of the curious who were fortunate enough to possess them to make their appearance at the jail door three hours before the time announced for the execution. They were admitted and spent the intervening hours passing about the corridors and examining closely the preparations made for the execution. In order that the prisoners in the cells might be relieved of the sad spectacle of the death of one of their number, the wickets were not only closed, but broad sheets of tin were placed over them.

At 11:30 o'clock the corridors and main floor of the jail were packed to suffocation. Sheriff McMann mounted the scaffold and requested the spectators not to smoke and also to refrain from making any remarks when the prisoner took his position on the trap.

Sheriff McMann and Under Sheriff O'Connor entered the condemned man's cell at 11:45, and Mr. O'Connor proceeded to read the death-warrant to Goldenison. The prisoner listened quietly to it, and when it was concluded remarked laconically, "Good."

At 11:55 o'clock the door swung open again and Jailer Rogers entered and waited. Nothing was said as the moments sped slowly. The prisoner arose and took another drink of brandy. Underneath the scaffold Mrs. Black, Pescia and Carpenter had taken their seats and everything was in readiness. At 12 minutes to 12 Goldenison arose and walked rapidly to and fro, his face set, his lips compressed, his eyes fixed ahead. Another drink at 12. The bell tolled the noon hour.

As Goldenison stepped forward on the scaffold he betrayed just a trifle of nervousness.

"Well, gentlemen," he said, "I have a few words to say before I go. I have always reiterated that I loved Mamie Kelly, and I say so again now." Then turning to Sheriff McMann and putting out his hand, he continued: "I thank you, kind Sheriff, for all you have done for me." He looked again at the spectators as he stepped backward on the trap, and said: "I die forgiving you all."

Chief Jailer Rogers and several deputies proceeded at once to adjust the straps about his arms and legs. Goldenison removed his collar himself.

He asked for the picture of Mamie Kelly, which has been in his possession during his incarceration, and it was handed to him. He held it in his left hand by a ribbon, which was attached to the top of it.

While his wrists were being strapped to his body he looked toward the spectators and spoke in a loud tone: "Good-by, friends and enemies alike."

Deputy Rogers was about to put the noose over the prisoner's head, when Goldenison whispered something to him. The straps on his right arm were undone immediately and Goldenison took hold of the noose himself and placed it over his head and around his neck. "This," said he, "is proof that I loved her."

The strapping being completed, the black cap was produced. While it was being tied over his head, Goldenison was heard to ask for Father Fasanotti, adding that he wanted to shake hands with him once more. The priest stepped up and grasped the pinioned hand warmly.

"Good-by, Father," came from beneath the cap.

"Good-by, Aleck, and may God bless you," said the reverend Father, and he turned away from the awful sight.

CONGRESS.

The Chinese Bill Under Consideration in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 14.—A letter was received at the Senate to-day from the Department of Justice, transmitting a list of unpaid United States District Attorneys.

Senator Platt introduced a resolution to inquire if the American production of copper was controlled by any foreign syndicate, and to inquire if any legislation were possible to check this. He said that the original bill and amendments for the suppression of trusts did not reach the trust on copper, which was as dangerous as any known trust. He said the entire copper production of the world is controlled by a foreign syndicate, located in Paris, and the profits it makes are something enormous.

Senator George made a long speech regarding trusts.

Senator Reagan thought attention should be paid to such trusts as the Standard Oil and Sugar Trusts, which it was in the power of Congress to suppress, before it attempted to interfere with foreign affairs.

The Chinese bill was taken up, and Senator Jones of Nevada spoke against reconsideration of the vote. He said it was now a question whether this vile stream of Mongolians would be permitted to continue flowing into the country, or whether the immigration of this unassimilating race should be unrestrictedly excluded. He arraigned the Democratic party for its double-faced policy in this Chinese matter. He gave a brief history of the Chinese on the Pacific Slope from the time they first came until to-day. He said that Chinamen, from thousands of years of use and training, are able to live in a style that white people could not endure, and in this way they have taken up every avenue of employment on the Pacific Slope, driving young men to idleness and vice and young women to desperation. The unrestricted immigration of Chinamen, he said, means the overthrow of our civilization. There should be no party lines on this subject. It is a fight to maintain our own customs as against those of the Mongolian barbaric customs. These people, he said, would seize upon every avenue of industry, and eventually close it to an American. He inquired why we should want to get into a treaty to ratify this treaty when such was the pitiable condition of the Pacific Slope? Those who vote for reconsideration would vote to drive thousands of workmen and women to idleness and despair and the only reward for such vote would be the preservation of gilt-edged diplomacy. He hoped both sides would vote against reconsideration, because he considered this measure of more importance to our civilization than he could imagine. He was answered by Vest of Missouri.

Stanley's Fate.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—News of the murder in Africa of Major Bartlett, leader of the expedition in search of Henry M. Stanley, has given rise to speculation regarding the fate of the great explorer himself. The London newspapers are unanimously of the opinion that Bartlett was betrayed by Tippeo Tib, who organized the native portion of the expedition, and the question is asked why not Stanley have been also a victim of his treachery.

Prosperous Outlook.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Dewey says the grain crop all over Europe is a failure, and if speculators put up prices so high that Europeans will have to fall back on Australia and India, there is going to be lots of money rolling into the pockets of farmers this fall. He does not think the prospect of a prosperous business year was ever more brilliant than now.

Brice Deceased.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—It transpires that Chairman Brice has been deposed from the Democratic National Committee. Senator Gorham hereafter will conduct the campaign. Brice was sent West in order to let his own party. Brice's management has been highly unsatisfactory.

G. A. R.

Installation of Officers and Appointment of Staff.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 14.—At to-day's session of the G. A. R. Encampment Senior Vice Comrade Cole of St. Louis presided and a report was made showing the treasury in good condition. A motion to increase the per capita tax to four cents per quarter was defeated by a unanimous vote. It was decided that the Judge Advocate General and Inspector General be salaried positions.

A resolution in memory of General Sheridan was unanimously adopted.

The installation of the new officers was very impressive, the oath of office being administered by Past Commander Heath. Retiring Commander-in-Chief Rea, who has been sick for a day or more, introduced his successor, Commander-in-Chief Wm. Warner, who thanked his predecessor for his kind words and said: "Many will return home with grateful memories of this occasion. While the Grand Army is now at the summit of its prosperity, I hope it will soon be with every department as it was said of the Department of Vermont—that there was not in that State a single honorably discharged soldier who was not a member of the Grand Army." It was his hope, he said, that he might have the comradeship of the Grand Army in the same proud position as his predecessor, and that would be as much of a legacy as he could leave his children. "I accept the office of Commander-in-Chief, fully realizing its responsibilities, and now we will proceed to business."

The Commander-in-Chief then announced the following as his staff of officers: Eugene F. Weigel of Missouri, Adjutant General; John Taylor of Pennsylvania, Quartermaster General; George S. Evans of Massachusetts, Inspector General.

The Encampment was then declared closed, comrades being enjoined to return home with hearts bounding with "fraternity, charity and loyalty."

The Women Relief Corps installed officers to-night. Mrs. F. D'Arcy Kinne of California being the installing officer. Mrs. Hattie M. Nichols of Virsqua, Wis., was appointed Secretary and Mrs. E. Stark Hampton, the retiring Vice-President, was appointed Counselor. They were in session until after midnight.

Men and Women's Bones.

Joints and muscles may escape the agonizing tortures of rheumatism if they will but "take time by the forelock," and annihilate the symptoms of oncoming trouble with the benignant and highly sanctioned blood purifier and alterative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Poisons mostly constitute the ordinary means of battling with rheumatism. Avoid the risk of using these by restoring to the safe as well as effectual anti-phlogistic and preventive. After exposure to damp, through drafts and other causes which encourage a rheumatic tendency, a wineglassful of the Bitters prevents ill effects. No surer preventive of malarial ailments like fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake exists, and it is, besides, a most genial recuperator of strength exhausted by excessive mental or physical effort. Minors, mariners, operatives and others whose avocations involve laborious work in rough weather out of doors, or close application indoors, find it invaluable.

AGENTS.

Agents for the Bitters are the liver and biliary apparatus, and drives out the malarial poison which induces liver complaints and bilious disorders. Warranted to cure or money refunded. Try it.

The Palace Dry Goods and Carpet House announces in this issue that Monday next has been selected as the opening day for the fall and winter goods recently received from San Francisco. The ladies of Reno should read the advertisement, as it contains many things that will interest them.

Another heavy down-pour of rain occurred here at noon to-day, and continued for half an hour, during which time lightning flashed, thunder roared and the wind shrieked with moniacal glee. The fury of the latter did considerable damage to the orchards and gardens in town, the limbs of many trees being broken and small plants uprooted.

Sam Davis of the Carson Appeal and Deacon Parkinson of the Tribune indignantly deny that they ever posed as deadheads at any of the Lake Tahoe resorts. Both journalists have done a good work in exposing the rapacity of the land and stage-owners of Tahoe, and are now being assailed by an anonymous correspondent of the Truckee Republican. So far the molders of public opinion have the best of the argument.

THE STATE FAIR.

Every preparation has been made for the successful opening of the Fair Monday, and already a great many have made their appearance in town. By Monday evening the many attractions always attendant upon the State Fair, will be in full blast, and people from abroad can find plenty of amusement. Owing to the storm this afternoon a GAZETTE reporter was unable to visit the grounds and therefore cannot state the progress there. All the State Fair officials were also too busy to be interviewed, consequently the programme for Monday could not be obtained.

The Set Was Taken.

The Carson Tribune tells the following improbable story: Major John Dennis offered to bet $5,000 on the election of Cleveland and put up $200 forfeit. Inside of ten minutes, as soon as known by certain parties, the $5,000 was covered in Wells, Fargo & Co.'s bank by Republicans. The Major has until October 5th to put up the balance.

Make No Mistake.

By dispelling the symptoms so often mistaken for consumption, Santa Abie has brought gladness to many a household. By its prompt use for breaking up the cold that too often develops into that fatal disease, thousands can be saved from an untimely grave. You make no mistake by keeping a bottle of this pleasant remedy in your house. California Cat-R-Cure is equally effective in eradicating all traces of Natal Catarrh. Both of these wonderful California remedies are sold and warranted by Osburn & Shoemaker at 15 a package, three for $2.50.

Fryer's Abietene Cough Balsam.—Apothecary cure for Lung, Chest and Throat Troubles. (Without opium.) Price 75 cents. Sold by Wm. F. Fryer. All genuine Abietene preparations bear the fac-simile signature of D. F. Fryer.

We know of no mode of treatment which offers so certain hope of cure than that which is comprehended in the use of Fryer's Sarsaparilla. For purifying and invigorating the blood this preparation is unequalled.

Pneumonia can be quickly and permanently cured by adding the powder to be found with each bottle of Fryer's true Abietene Cough Balsam. (They contain no opium.) Price 75 cents. Sold by Wm. F. Fryer. All genuine preparations bear the fac-simile signature of D. F. Fryer.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA NOTES.

N. S. Dean is the Democratic nominee for Sheriff of Plumas county.

John Doyle and Miss Marie Christie were married at Millford, Lassen county, on the 9th instant.

It is stated that the percentage of the entries to the races at the Susanville races will amount to $15,000.

There is now telephonic connection between Crescent, Plumas county, and Johnstonville, via Greenville, Meadow View and Susanville.

Bob York who has had two trials at Susanville for the alleged crime of stealing and slaughtering cattle, both of which resulted in a disagreement of the jury, has been released on his own recognizance.

At 1:30 o'clock Wednesday morning the house of Eli Newton in Susanville was destroyed by fire. The loss is $2,500, insured in the Hamburg and Bremen office for $1,200. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The residence of J. M. Merrilees at Crescent, Plumas county, was destroyed by fire on the evening of the 11th instant, and Agnes, aged three years, was burned to death, and Robert, the eldest boy, was seriously burned before he was rescued.

On the 5th instant the barn of A. M. Gee & Son, at Taylorville, Plumas county, was burned. The loss estimated, besides the building, two valuable horses, a large quantity of hay and oats, a fine buggy and several sets of harness, all valued at over $2,000; no insurance.

HUNTING A ROUTE.

A Union-Pacific Surveying Corps in the Field.

James B. Maxwell, a veteran surveyor in the employ of the Union Pacific Railroad, is the leader of a surveying expedition, now in the vicinity of Austin, which is hunting a route for the continuation of the Union Pacific system to the Pacific Coast. Mr. Maxwell, according to the Austin Reveille, has been taking the elevations of all the available passes west of Eureka, and is now out to Big Creek taking the height of the pass between that and Kingston canyon and making notes of the country. He is determining the lowest pass between Smokey and Reese river valleys. The road is following the direction of the old overland stage route. A route by Telegraph pass, through Grass Valley and through Yankee Blade has been examined. From Austin, the route will extend by West Gate into the Carson sink, thence to Ragtown pass to Wadsworth, and across the Sierras by the Beckwith pass.

Neil Warner as "Ingomar."

The Eureka (Cal.) Standard in speaking of the great scholar and actor says: "This company last night presented the pathetic drama of 'Ingomar' to a good house, and the rendition was in every way in full keeping with the talent which this excellent company has displayed. All parts were well sustained, but the principal characters, Ingomar and Parthena, were most ably impersonated. The subtle charm which Parthena seemed to throw over the Barbarian extended to the audience, and as she drew Ingomar from his state of wild savagery by that unfathomable power of love, willing him to do her bidding, quelling and taming his ferocious spirit to ways of peace and quiet, she presented a vision of feminine loveliness that won and captivated the audience as completely as it did her wild lover. It was a beautiful rendition of the sentiment sought to be portrayed in the play. It was the richest treat with which the Eureka theater-going public have been favored."

The above-named play will be presented at McKissick's Opera House Monday night. Box sheet at Nashy's Bazaar.

Delicious Fruit.

This year the fruit crop in the vicinity of Reno is a bountiful one, and our orchardists are willing to compare their products with the fruit of California. While all have fruit of superior quality it is doubtful if they can excel in size and flavor the fruit grown by William Reilly on his ranch one and a half miles from town. The pears grown by this gentleman are delicious, and as he looks to the people of Reno for a market, all who wish can have an opportunity of judging the merits of his fruit.

A Reno Child Actress.

Miss Mabel Borton, who is said to evince as much dramatic talent, years considered, as her sister, Miss Lillian, will make her debut on the professional stage at the Nevada Theater next week with the Ward Company, appearing on Monday evening as Little Willie in "East Lynne."

"The Merry Maiden and the Tar."

She was merriest before she "struck" the tar. Her spirits sank as she beheld her new, white gown blackened by the tar. This tar helped a wagon run instead of helping her on a ship. Just so a thousand trivial accidents and neglected "small things" take the merriest out of the lives of young girls and maidens. Particularly in this case with diseases peculiar to their sex which take so much enjoyment and happiness from life. However, a remedy is found in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for all female "weaknesses" or irregularities, nervousness, neuritis, and uterine troubles. Ask your druggist.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets, or Anti-Bilious Granules, have no equals. 25 cents a visit; one dose. Cure headache, constipation and indigestion.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at Hodgkinson's drug store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases a quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

THE WARD COMPANY.

A Week of Dramatic Enjoyment at the Nevada Theater Assured.

On Monday evening the above-named company will commence a season of one week at the Nevada Theater during which time they will present "East Lynne," "Lady Audley's Secret," "Ten Nights in a Bar-room," "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "Streets of New York," and "The French Spy," all old favorites. For Monday evening "East Lynne" will be presented with Miss Lottie Wade, who is said to be an emotional actress of great ability, in the title role, supported by a new and carefully selected company. Of James M. Ward and Mrs. Carrie Clarke Ward nothing not already known to our people, can be said. Both are old Nevada favorites, and as the company is under their leadership a week of genuine dramatic enjoyment is assured all who attend the performances at the Nevada Theater.

Reserved seats are now on sale at Davis' cigar store, and the demand for them already augurs a prosperous season.

Washoe's Favorite Non Objects.

The Genoa Courier is responsible for the following:

Count—"Mr. Clerk, call twelve jurors."

Clerk, shaking the box—"James C. Bull, H. D. Johns, James Hughes, T. N. Hansen, Thomas Fowler, Gee Lo—"

Attorney-General Alexander, rising from his seat in great excitement—"If you honor please, I can't permit a Chinaman to sit on a jury in a case in which I am acting as counsel. I expect to be a candidate for Governor two years from now and the prejudice against the Chinese is such on this coast that it would ruin my chances totally."

The Court smiled a fatherly smile upon the ambitious attorney and remarked:

"The man who answered to that name, John, don't seem to be of the hated race you mention.—Mr. Clerk, what did you say that last name was?"

The Clerk settled his Brazilian pibbles on his handsome nose, and gazing intently upon a slip of paper which he held in his hand, sang out at the top of his voice:

"G-e-a-r Lowe!"

The Attorney-General dropped into his seat with a "dull thud" and business proceeded.

State Land Office.

During the week ending September 14th filed applications for State land were filed, embracing 3,964.86 acres. Cash receipts were: Payments on applications, $1,151.84; second and full payments, $1,278.67; payments on contracts, $88.55; interest payments on contracts, $172.59; total, $2,692.28.

"Kathleen Mavourneen."

A full dress rehearsal last night completed all the preparations for the presentation of the above play to-night. All signs indicate a full house and a rousing benefit for the Trinity Church Guild Society. Curtain will rise at 8:30 o'clock sharp.

Means Big Issues.

The Carson Appeal says: Reno has picked out a legislative delegation this year that means business. Bill Thompson and Beck are both men who let no grass grow under their feet and they will be here to fight Carson in the interest of Reno.

On Trial for Horse Stealing.

The case of the State against Charles Hamburch, charged with grand larceny, was tried to-day and was given to the jury at 2 o'clock, but up to 4 o'clock no verdict had been rendered. Hamburch was indicted for stealing a horse from T. G. Herman of Wadsworth.

For First Place.

A great amount of political engineering will be done by friends of candidates to secure for their man the first place on the ticket, and the best man will probably secure the coveted place. Then, if indorsed by the majority of the people, the election is assured. Electric Bitters has been put to the front, its merits passed upon, has been indorsed, and unanimously given the first place among remedies peculiarly adapted to the relief and cure of all diseases of the kidneys, liver and stomach. Electric Bitters, being guaranteed, is a safe investment. Price 50 cents and $1 per bottle at Hodgkinson's drug store.

Fryer's Abietene Cough Balsam.—A combination of the Gum Abietene, Verba Santa, and Mullein, is guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds and all lung diseases. (It contains no opium.) Price 75 cents. Sold by Wm. F. Fryer. All genuine Abietene preparations bear the fac-simile signature of D. F. Fryer.

Gebhardt's Horses.

Pompey, Sept. 15.—Charles W. Aby, Superintendent of Fred Gebhardt's California stock farm, and one of the victims of the recent Erie Railroad disaster, is in town to-day, just discharged from the New York Hospital. He will take charge of Gebhardt's two horses saved from the wreck, the stallion St. Saviour and the filly Mineral, and remove them to Monmouth Park, preliminary to another start for California. St. Saviour is badly scarred by wounds, but is unharmed for stud purposes. Aby declares he will name the stallion's first colt Shohola, in memory of the disaster. He values the horse at $20,000. Mineral is in fine form.

After using Ayer's Sarsaparilla one month I was Entirely Cured."

Mrs. H. M. Thayer, Milton, Mass., writes: "I have been very much troubled with torpidity of the liver, and Dyspepsia. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has cured me." Mrs. J. W. Bradley, Hyde Park, Mass., writes: "I was greatly reduced by Dyspepsia, and was advised to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which entirely cured me." Mrs. M. F. Hamblett, 25 Lawrence Street, Lowell, Mass., writes: "I was sick two years with stomach and liver troubles, and obtained no relief until I took

Life and Health.

Alarie Mercier, 3 Harrison Avenue, Lowell, Mass., writes: "My son was weak and debilitated, troubled with sore eyes and Scrofulous humors. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored him to perfect health." Irving H. Edwards, Ithaca, N. Y., writes: "From the time I was four years old, until eighteen, I was subject to Scrofulous sore throat. Many a time my neck has been raw sore, from postures put on to draw out the inflammation. I took four bottles of Ayer's Sar-
